Booking your date

Let's make it official.

Once you've decided that you'd like to become a Sophie Louise Bride, I'll send over your personalised booking details and agreement.

Your date is secured once your signed agreement and booking fee has been received.

The total balance must be paid 14 days prior to your wedding date.

I take a limited number of weddings each month so that I can give every bride the time and attention she deserves.

For this reason, I recommend enquiring as early as possible, particularly for summer Saturdays.
